Chamber of Commerce Talks To Business Men

To the Business Men and Citizens of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery County—Greeting: It is the desire of the Chamber of Commerce to bring to the attention of the business men and citizens of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county the great benefits which have been derived in the past and which will continue to be derived in the future from the county's great annual amusement and educational exposition, the Montgomery County Fair.

No enterprise which has been promoted in the history of the county has in such a measure advertised our city and county to the rest of the world—it has in a sense put Mt. Sterling "on the map" by bringing to admire our city and its facilities hundreds of people each year who otherwise might never have entered our gates. Though it may not be realized by a great majority of our people, the fame of the Montgomery County Fair has spread even beyond the borders of our commonwealth and already numbers from other states have signified their intention of being present at the 1922 exhibition.

Under the new secretaryship of Mr. N. A. Wilkerson, the 1922 exhibition promises to be bigger and better than ever. Arrangements have been made for one of the most famous bands of the state to furnish the music. A carnival company which requires forty cars to move has been contracted for. Kings and queens of the turf will compete for the handsome purses to be offered and the livestock shows will be revived in all their former glory.

The Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery County heartily endorses the efforts of the fair management in attempting to make the 1922 fair the biggest and best yet held, and hereby call on all of the citizens of the city and county who have the welfare of the community at heart to lend their influence and sincere co-operation in whatever way they may in attaining the end sought. This may be done by their liberal patronage of the advertising pages of the fair catalogue and program, by the donation of special premiums, by their assistance in advertising the 1922 fair and by general boosting of the enterprise. The fair board counts on women and men alike for their assistance. May they count on you? Very respectfully, Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery County, H. G. Hoffman, President.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank our neighbors and friends and anyone who helped to bring a ray of sunshine into the saddest days of our lives during the sickness and death of Mrs. Rosa Wells. Oh, happy thought, a good deed done is a seed sown that will bring a harvest, sometime, somewhere, and may the harvest to these good people who came to us stranger be in proportion to the seed sown.—Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Bentley.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Last Friday afternoon closed the club season for the History Club after a very interesting and successful year of work. After a short program officers were elected to serve for the club year, as follows: Mrs. George Snyder, president; Mrs. L. E. Griggs, first vice president; Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, second vice president; Mrs. D. C. Fox, corresponding secretary; Miss Jennie Breen, recording secretary; Miss Rannie Burroughs, treasurer. The club will resume its meetings in September.

This creamery buys through Mrs. Turley and she makes direct shipments, insuring prompt service and a top price. (68-3t)

RADIO MUSIC ENTERTAINS

MT. STERLING POPULACE
Tuesday evening the radio instrument at the station of Sandefur and Strossman furnished Detroit music for quite a number of our citizens. The music was that of a brass band and was transmitted by wireless. The music was distinctly heard at a distance of several blocks from the station.

FARMERS!

We want to buy your blue grass seed. We pay all it is worth.—S. P. Greenwade, phone 2.

PASS PROSPERITY AROUND

(By William H. Rankin)

Everyone is getting together now and doing something to push prosperity along. Ride out through the farms. You will find busy men decidedly more contented than a twelvemonth ago. The farmer is getting from fifteen to twenty per cent more for his general products than this time last year. He is ready to buy. He is buying.

He is doing his share.

Because the farmer is buying the local dealers are buying. Visit the merchants of your county seat. They have written off their readjustment losses of the last two years. Their sales are increasing. Their stocks are being replenished to meet the steadily growing purchases by their customers. They are ready to buy. They are buying.

They are doing their share.

Because local merchants are moving their goods manufacturers are finding profits in adjusted prices. They are finding their orders increasing. Factories are running longer hours to take care of increased demands. More men are finding jobs open.

Each individual in the prosperity procession is pushing ahead the man in front of him.

Are you, as a farmer, doing your share of buying?

Are you, as a local dealer, doing your share of placing orders?

Are you, as a manufacturer, doing your share in giving good value at fair prices?

Are you, as a manufacturer, doing your share in opening up your plant, hiring men, advertising your goods, investing for prosperity?

Every dollar spent by you as a consumer means one more order from your merchant to his manufacturer. This means one more job for the manufacturer, and one less man unemployed.

Remember, because you as a consumer are buying, and the retailer is restocking, and the wholesaler is ordering, and the manufacturer is advertising, prosperity is arriving. More laboring men are at work and are now buying. The mail order houses are at the "back order" stage (i. e., they haven't enough goods to fill their orders). The automobile manufacturers are thirty to ninety days behind in making deliveries. The sales and advertising departments have done their part to bring back this prosperous condition in a large number of lines, especially those lines that "keep on advertising."

Every manufacturer or merchant who can advertise, whether in a large or small way, will find profit in advertising.

Because you, as a merchant or individual, advertise, the wholesaler will increase his orders, the retailer will make more sales, and the public will increase its wants and its purchases. As we increase buying and selling we will improve business conditions. Every business man is doing something to help business. So is every advertising man and every publisher. Are you? Do so, and "help pass prosperity around!"

Twilight League To Open Monday

Amateur baseball is gaining in favor as has been evidenced for the past few days by the number of "old heads" who have been down to the park for a workout. The Twilight League will get into action Monday afternoon, when the first game of the season will be played between the teams of "Jimmy" Nesbitt and Lonnie Barnard. Games in this league will not be called until 4:30 in order not to interfere with business, and it is hoped all ex-ball players will show an interest and be on hand. About four teams will be organized and some interesting games are being looked forward to. Baseball is the very best outdoor exercise and if young business men will get interested and take an active part they will be greatly benefited by the exercise, as well as getting much genuine pleasure out of the sport.

Raspberries for sale.—Call Mrs. Josh Owings, phone 498.

LEXINGTON COUPLE WED IN WASHINGTON

Friends here will learn with keen interest of the marriage of Miss Margaret Kelly Armstrong, of Lexington, to Marion Ross, of the same city, which took place in Washington on Monday. The bride is one of a trio of beautiful sisters, and is a niece and namesake of Mrs. John Walsh, of this city. She has frequently visited in the Walsh home and is a great favorite in social circles here. Mr. Ross is a successful young business man and comes of one of Fayette county's most prominent families. After a bridal trip to eastern cities, Mr. and Mrs. Ross will make their home in Covington.

Special attention is called to the advertisement of the sale of the Mrs. Sara English cottage on Harrison avenue, which will be held on Saturday, June 17, at 2:30 p. m. Read the advertisement most be sure and be on hand for the sale.

BLUE GRASS SEED WANTED

We are in the market to buy blue grass seed at the top price.—S. P. Greenwade, phone 2.

Mt. Sterling Goes To Maysville Sunday

The Mt. Sterling Essex baseball team will journey to Maysville Sunday where they hope to take the measure of the Mason county champions, who have succeeded in winning all but one game this year. Craig, a third baseman from Huntington, reported at the local park yesterday and those who saw him perform were well pleased with his workout. The local aggregation is playing Paris at Fair Grounds park this afternoon and are confident of taking the measure of the Bourbon county lads.

There is still a great deal of talk about a four-game a week schedule and this is expected to be adopted by the 15th of this month. There is also some talk of dividing the season into two parts and the winner of each half playing it out for the championship at the close of the season. This move would doubtless prove quite popular and add much interest, for as matters now stand Maysville has all the best of the other teams in the league.

Commerce Heads At Owingsville June 20

The district conference of the Chambers of Commerce of Central Kentucky will be held at Owingsville on June 20. At the same time the booster trip of the Lexington Chamber of Commerce will be held and they will both meet in the Bath county capital that day. The Woman's Club will prepare the lunch for the delegates. These conferences have been held in a great many of the towns of this district and they promise to be of great benefit to the communities concerned.

Hon. Joseph E. Boggs, commissioner of public roads of Kentucky, will be in Owingsville that day to deliver an address concerning the Midland Trail and Bath county's relation to the thoroughfare and try to stir the people of that county up to getting busy on this important roadway.

The cliff dwellers kept warm in winter by using the mountain range.

This County To Have Deep Test Oil Well

C. E. Ledford is here for the purpose of securing a block of leases in this county on which to sink a deep test oil well.

S. B. Mercer, oil operator of Ohio and Texas, has made two trips here recently, carefully going over local conditions in the interest of his association relative to the probability of Montgomery county being oil producing territory, and the indications are so favorable that the company on his report has decided to make a deep test because of the favorable report.

That Montgomery county will be a large producer of deep oil this company has such faith as to induce them to invest money and labor. Every land owner should give his full co-operation and lease lands without delay so that operation can begin at once.

SPECIAL OFFERING IN MEN'S HOSE—We have just purchased 200 dozen men's regular 25c hose that we are selling at 95c. a box, 6 pairs to the box, assorted colors. This is the second sale of these hose in this city, and for a short while only. We would advise that you visit us immediately in order to secure this great hosiery bargain.—The Walsh Company, Incorporated.

Wrench Factory May Locate Here

John R. Palmeter, of Jamestown, N. Y., was here the past week consulting with our business men as to the advisability of locating a factory in Mt. Sterling for the manufacture of wrenches. Mr. Palmeter, who was reared in the Grassy Lick section of this county, has patented wrenches that are said to be the best in the world. The factory would employ many skilled workmen and would be a big thing for this city and county. The Chamber of Commerce is working on the proposition and will use every endeavor to bring the factory here.

BLUE GRASS SEED WANTED
If we buy the blue grass seed of this section we must pay the top prices. We know this and we want the seed. Talk with us.—S. P. Greenwade, phone 2.

At this date the pens at the Mt. Sterling Stock Yards are nearly all taken and reports that have been received indicate there will be on the market June court day about 6,000 head of sheep and as many cattle.

"WHALE" OF A CARP

Joe A. Evans, of the Mt. Sterling Laundry, hooked a 17 1/2-pound carp in Slate creek Monday. The monster fish brought forth many exclamations of surprise after Mr. Evans brought it to town, and more than one Iko Walton turned green with the fisherman's envy.

1,200,000 Rail Men Will Take Strike Vote

Railroad wages under the new railroad labor board orders for seven of the larger groups of the country's rail workers soon will be at a level which does not measure up to the American standard of living and which will make vigorous protest necessary, according to B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

In less than two hours' time heads of eleven railroad unions arrived at an understanding whereby each organization will take a strike vote immediately on issuance of wage reduction orders from the labor board for its membership. The votes will be returnable in 30 days and the strike vote for the six shop crafts, sent out by President Jewell's orders, will be in his office in Chicago by June 30.

The strike votes decided on will affect about 1,200,000 of the country's railway employees—all except the train service men, whose wages are not in dispute before the board. Although wage cuts have not been announced for any classes but the shop crafts and maintenance of way, pending decision are expected to add five other classes of labor to the general slash.

Union executives of these organizations today decided to print their ballots and have them ready to send out to the membership immediately if the board, as anticipated, orders further reductions in their pay.

"The new wages do not permit a minimum living wage," declared Mr. Jewell, "and they are wholly at variance with the saving wage championed by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and President Harding. The labor board, a federal body, has totally disregarded the secretary's attitude as well as the employees' own evidence showing the amount necessary to maintain a railroad man's family."

No further action will be taken by the union heads at this time, pending return of the strike ballots. When the result is known—and the union heads freely predict an overwhelming vote to walk out—a working agreement is expected to be made by which any stoppage of work would take place simultaneously by all organizations. Meanwhile, President Jewell intimated that a persistent fight would be made to keep the necessity for gaining a "living wage" before the board and other responsible authorities.

INSECTS, DISEASES THREATEN RECORD BLOOMING OF ROSES

Rose bushes in practically every section of the state are blooming in exceptional fashion this year, but inquiries being received at the College of Agriculture from many growers indicate that numerous insects and diseases are threatening the continued profuse blooming.

When bushes show signs of disease or insect infestation, a careful diagnosis must be given first to determine the exact cause of the trouble, according to recommendations made by N. R. Elliott, of the college extension division. Insect injury may be caused either by biting or sucking insects, different treatments being required in either case. Treatment differing entirely from those applied for insect damage must be used when the trouble is caused by a disease.

At this particular season of the year, a considerable amount of the trouble probably is being caused by the plant aphids. This insect belongs to the sucking class and can be controlled by spraying the bushes with commercially prepared tobacco mixtures. A little later in the season, the common insect that bothers rose bushes is the rose chaffer, this one belonging to the biting class. It is controlled by spraying the bushes with arsenate of lead. If the leaves become affected with a fungus growth, they must be treated with Bordeaux mixture.

In using any of the three remedies named, it is best to follow the instructions given on the package. All three can be purchased in a commercial form at any drug store, water being the only thing needed to make the materials ready for use. This is perhaps the best way to buy the materials and in general will give better results than when they are prepared at home.

SUDAN PLANTED NOW WILL MAKE SUMMER HOG FORAGE

Sudan grass for hog pasture can be seeded as late as the middle of June in Kentucky, according to E. J. Wilford, swine specialist of the College of Agriculture. The crop is meeting with special favor among swine breeders and feeders because of its ability to continue growing during the hot, dry Kentucky summers when rape and other pasture crops are dried up, he said. From 20 to 30 pounds of seed usually are drilled in each acre, the larger amount being preferable since it results in a thicker sod.

The grass is an exceptional rapid-growing pasture crop. A plot of it on the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm last summer averaged 15 inches high, when measured from the ground to the tip of the leaves, 16 days after planting. It is ready for pasture when about 10 inches high. The crop also is palatable and well liked by the hogs and usually is so rank growing that a large number of hogs can be pastured on it and a crop of hay cut afterwards.

One Language Is Urged On World

Language, the master-key to thought and the vehicle of communication, remains under the curse of Babel, while Arabic numerals, measurements of latitude and longitude, mathematical signs, chemical formulae and even the metric system have progressed to such an extent that they are now used by all nations, declares the London Times scientific expert, urging the necessity of a universal tongue.

Esperanto or Ido, or some modification of them, seem to hold the balance of advantages in the choice for an international language, he adds, although Latin and English have received sufficient support to be ranked as serious candidates. Scientific men, he says, form the group most anxious to see a world agreement on some auxiliary language and are not inclined to care what one is chosen.

"Were it possible to acquire a second language in addition to the native tongue to convey ideas," the Times expert says, "one of the greatest barriers to the progress of science would be broken down."

Of the languages contending for world recognition he says that a difficult and irregular grammar is one of the chief objections to Latin, while English has a "chaotic" spelling with a difficult and various pronunciation. Also, he says, the choice of one from among the many living languages would excite intense and destructive jealousy.

Reviewing efforts that have been made in the movement, the writer calls attention to the work of the International Research Council in Brussels during the summer of 1918, of the British, American, French and Italian Associations, and of the League of Nations. These various bodies, he contends, are "free from the suspicion of advocating serious study of what might be regarded as a fad."

The writer notes that the invented language, Esperanto, has already held twelve international congresses in different countries and is taught in schools in Geneva, Breslau, Milan, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria. Ido, he says, claims to be a later and improved form of esperanto, having hitherto had a smaller vogue, but being in appearance and sound more attractive.

"The vital requirements," he concludes, "is that the auxiliary language should be kept auxiliary, the vehicle of formal statement. If it should become a language of common speech, of emotion, or of literature it will at once fail of its purpose and be only an additional linguistic burden."

* FARM AND HOME NEWS * FROM OVER KENTUCKY

In order to determine the highest yielding variety of corn for that section of the state, six Taylor county farmers are co-operating with the College of Agriculture extension division in conducting a corn variety tests. County Agent J. L. Miller reports. Ten varieties are being tested by each of the farmers.

Legume crops are attracting lively interest among Breathitt county farmers, according to County Agent R. V. Trosper. Thirty-five of them are growing soybeans and sweet clover.

Orchard demonstrations being conducted by Livingston county farmers who are co-operating with the College of Agriculture extension division are accomplishing much in showing farmers in that section of the state the value of recommended orchard practices, County Agent L. C. Pace says. The demonstrators have just applied the fourth spray to their orchards. The trees in all cases are remarkably free of insects and diseases, he added.

Six thousand Barred Plymouth Rock hatchling eggs and 500 baby chicks were distributed to McCreary county farmers this spring in furthering the poultry standardization campaign being conducted over the state by the College of Agriculture, according to County Agent Woodward.

Junior agricultural club members of Lewis county are giving plays and ice cream suppers as a means of raising money with which to send a delegate to junior week to be held June 19 to 24 at the College of Agriculture at Lexington for farm boys and girls of the state, County Agent R. O. Hates says.

SUMMERTIME IS DYING TIME

As a nation we are nothing if not original—perhaps spectacular, so a splendid opportunity presents to cap the climax and reach the unique in the public interest. When the developments involving the obtaining of a pardon for Charles W. Morse come more sharply to the front—and they will—let us have the leading witness, Chief Justice Taft of the court of appeals. Justice Taft is beloved by all the people. He is one of our most distinguished and honored citizens. As a witness he would be a top-notch, and there is no doubt he could throw much light on the Morse situation. Ten minutes of testimony by Justice Taft under skilled guidance would unfold to the people the whole story of the Morse pardon and show the strings that were pulled to draw the wool over the eyes of the good-natured president of that time. The story would be illuminating and sufficiently dramatic to meet the demands of the yellowest of the yellow. Perhaps this consummation devoutly to be wished may become reality, because news developments are unusually rapid, so rapid, in fact, that it would seem to be time for Mr. Morse to begin dying again.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

See that all rubbish is removed from your cellar, back yard and area-way. Have it placed in suitable receptacles where the street cleaning department can readily remove it.
Clear hallways of all obstructions.
Remove and clean all carpets and hangings for the summer.
Scrub floors, hallways and all unvarnished woodwork thoroughly. Use plenty of soap and hot water.
Clean all windows and keep them open to fresh air and sunlight.
Ventilate damp cellars.
Report all neighborhood nuisances, such as stagnant pools and ill-smelling refuse piles to the health department.
Ask your landlord to repair leaky roofs and plumbing and to repair dirty, broken walls and ceilings.

If there is a vacant lot adjoining your house see that it is cleaned of all decaying and refuse material.

And remember that cheerful compliance with these suggestions, and with every other effort of the health department, will help to make your city a more healthful one in which to live.

You should be glad to do it.

Courtesy is a sign of good sense, no matter what your rank in life.

RUGS AT REDUCED PRICES

Hail Insurance Rates Reduced on Tobacco

With the recent reductions of hail storm insurance rates on growing tobacco, in the face of the enormous losses to growers within the last four or five years, every grower can afford to protect himself to the limit and, with safety, go into the business of producing a crop that requires so much money, time and labor, as does tobacco, that should be insured against loss by hail storms.

Now that so many growers have gone into an organization for a more economical, business-like way of handling their crops, and the insurance companies have so lowered rates on hail insurance, there is no reason in the world for any grower to neglect the protection of his crop by ample insurance.

Better see your insurance agent right away and have him protect your crop, which is likely to be destroyed any day by a hail storm. Policies become effective noon, July 10th.

Time of registration—from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. on each of these days.

Where registration is to be held—at each regular voting precinct in the state of Kentucky.

Persons entitled to register—all legal voters, both men and women, and all persons who will become 21 years of age on or before the following November.

Registration officers—two judges and a sheriff and a clerk in each precinct. The two judges to be of opposite political parties; a like difference between the clerk and the sheriff.

Notice to be given—county board of election commissioners to give notice of appointment of registration officers to the sheriff of the county.

Duty of the sheriff—the sheriff shall, within ten days next after the said appointment, give each officer of registration written notice of his appointment. It is the duty of the county sheriff to furnish a suitable place in each precinct for the registration.

Clerk of registration—Notice—Ten days before registration, the clerk of registration shall post notices in at least six conspicuous places in the precinct, stating the time and place of the registration.

Return of registration books to county clerk—It is the duty of the officers of registration to return the registration books to the county clerk not later than three days after holding the registration.

Duties of county clerk—The county clerk shall make exact copies of all the registration books, and preserve both the originals and copies in his office. He shall also keep a book showing the names of voters who have changed their voting precincts, and to what place.

The original registration books can only be taken from the clerk's office for use in any primary, special or general election, or for use in registrations or by officers appointed to purge same, or upon order of court in any trial growing out of the registration.

Purging registration books—At the request of the dominant parties, the county board of election commissioners shall, not later than October 1, appoint two officers, for any precinct to purge the books of that precinct and who shall meet on Tuesday after the first Monday in October. If the two purging officers disagree, appeal may be taken in the circuit court.

The registration officers to be appointed by the regular board of election commissioners of each county in the same manner as regular election officers are appointed and not later than the 20th day of June, 1922, and annually thereafter.

Registration is for the purpose of purifying elections in Kentucky. The greatest privilege enjoyed by citizens is the right to vote. You cannot vote unless you register on July 10 or 11.

ROOSTERS GIVEN BLAME FOR SUMMER EGG LOSSES

Roosters allowed to run with poultry flocks during warm weather cause Kentucky poultrymen and farmers a loss of almost one million dollars each year in the form of fertile eggs that spoil on their way to the consumer, poultrymen at the College of Agriculture say. The production of infertile eggs and the prevention of a large part of this loss requires that owners of laying hens sell, kill or confine all roosters as soon as the hatching season is over, they say. Hens without a rooster lay just as many eggs as those allowed to run with a rooster. It was pointed out.

"A fertile egg may become unfit for food in 24 hours of warm weather," J. H. Martin, in charge of the college poultry work, said. "An egg does not need to be incubated in order to spoil because warm weather will cause development of the germ. On the other hand, an infertile egg may be kept in an incubator at 103 degrees from seven days and still be good for cooking.

"Experiments have shown that it does not pay to hatch chicks after the first of June," he continued. "This being the case, there is no reason for keeping roosters with the flock during warm weather, since the hens will lay just as well without them.

"Old roosters should be sold or killed in June and the young roosters disposed of just as soon as they have reached frying size. Any cockerels kept for breeding should be confined. This not only will prevent the production of fertile eggs, but also will enable the cockerels to grow more rapidly and to a greater size than would be the case if they were allowed to run with hens."

Don't boast of one victory, because you might lost the next fight.

HENS IN DEMONSTRATIONS SHOW SUMMER FEED VALUE

One of the striking things being brought out by the 47 Kentucky farm poultry flocks that are being conducted as demonstrations by their owners who are co-operating with the College of Agriculture extension division in showing the best methods of managing farm flocks is the fact that mash, skim milk or buttermilk fed to the hens during the summer helps increase their egg production. Many farmers are inclined to believe that as soon as their hens are allowed to range over the farm it is unnecessary to feed them in order to get the largest number of eggs, poultrymen at the college say.

"This is a mistake that seriously curtails the production of flocks in the state," J. H. Martin, in charge of the college poultry work, said. "In order to produce the largest number of eggs during the summer, hens must be made to consume considerable mash or be given plenty of sour skim milk or buttermilk in addition to the feed which they pick up while ranging over the farm. If the hens are fed mash, it is a good plan to confine them in the house until about 9 o'clock in the morning during which time they should have nothing before them but mash and plenty of fresh water. In this way, they consume the necessary amount of mash before starting to range. The mash should contain at least one-fifth tankage by weight if best results are obtained.

"If an ample supply of buttermilk or sour skim milk is available, the mash will not be necessary. The flock should consume about one gallon of milk a day for every 30 hens. If allowed plenty of milk, the hens will need no water and in case they are inclined to drink at water troughs and other places, it may be well to confine them for a short time in the house each morning with the milk available.

In addition to increasing egg production, this method of summer feeding has an added advantage, Mr. Martin pointed out. It allows the farmer to cull his hens more accurately, inasmuch as the good hens will lay better while the poorer hens will not lay no matter how well fed.

It's a fine thing to be a millionaire if one can keep his head above his millions. Gold is very suffocating.

BIG PROGRESS THIS SEASON EXPECTED IN ROAD BUILDING

From the progress being made in federal aid work, the states are exerting every effort to make the present season a big one for road construction, according to the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. In February $3,906,000 was allotted, and in March the figure jumped to $12,029,000.

In April plans for 225 projects were approved by the bureau, the second largest number in the history of federal aid, and indications are that the number for May will be reported larger. In the past the peak in volume of plans approved came in June and July; the earlier occurrence this year shows that the states are making good their promise to get as much work under construction as possible to take advantage of lower prices and relieve the unemployment situation. A considerable portion of the projects for which the plans are approved should get under construction during the summer and add greatly to the 13,950 miles under construction on March 31.

On this date the number of completed projects on which final payment had been made passed the 2,000 mark, involving 11,017 miles. It will be interesting to watch the growth in this figure during the 1922 season.

A TEST THAT MAY PROVE TO BE OF INCALCULABLE WEALTH

In the last issue of The Advocate we made reference to an enterprise that may prove helpful to all. Here it is. Expert oil men have been here on divers occasions who from all indications, both above and under the surface, have led them to believe Montgomery county contains a deep oil pool sufficient in quantity to bring greater wealth to the county, and these men with an organization back of them are willing to spend time and money to drill a deep prospective oil well or wells, provided they can secure a bunch of leases. We believe with these experts that the shallow wells that have been put down here, every one of which has brought in some oil, which is a seepage from some large pool, and that a deep well may bring it in. A representative of the operating company is here already for work. If the company is willing to use its money in prospecting, we see no reason why land owners should not hurry to give leases under guarded restrictions. Should oil be found in quantities its worth could not be estimated for the county and should they fail to bring in oil the damage would be only to the prospectors, not to the land owners. The same marine deposits are here as are found in the rich oil fields of Texas. We are anxious to have the deep well test made and are hoping our land owners will not be slow to grant leases to justify the company to make the deep well test.

The rotary system of drilling will be employed and a depth of 4,000 feet can be reached much quicker by this method than by the old way of drilling. This prospecting is up to the land owners. What will they do about it?

GARY ATTACKS FARM BLOC

Wall street loses no opportunity to level its guns at the farmer, nor does it hesitate to fire when the big chiefs give the word. At present, of course, the assault is directed at the farm bloc, and it is an assault as determined and yet as subtle as it will prove fruitless. After reiterating the well worn platitudes that the law of the land should be made to apply with even justice to every man and every industry. Judge Gary, of the Steel Trust, tells us, that during the last few years there has arisen a disposition to "palm laws which measurably exempt labor organizations, and recently farmer associations, from governmental investigation, supervision and control—against wrong. Not only are they exempted from certain restrictive provisions of the existing statutes, but they are affirmatively permitted to do certain things prohibited to others," he says. "To permit labor associations or farmer organizations to do, as the result of combination, things that are claimed to be beneficial to them which are denied to others, is to create class to favor some of them and to injure the whole body politic."

Surely this is spurious logic of the first water, but unfortunately, it is hidden in the cloak of seeming justice. The basis of American liberty is government by the majority, the plain duty of government is to guard and protect its fundamental industries and the labor upon which the life of the nation depends. Presumably it is all right in the eyes of Judge Gary to permit certain special rights to railroads, the practical right of condemnation of property and other privileges denied to individuals, for example, because the railroads are public institutions, but the farmer who is the fundamental public institution of the world, must sit back satisfied to be ignored. It would seem that Judge Gary answers himself further in his recent address he says: "It is a trite saying that often the man who cries 'stop thief' in the loudest tones has the stolen goods in his pocket."

WOMAN'S VOTING LOGIC PUZZLE

Party leaders, who for policy or other reasons, were loud in their cheers for woman suffrage are now rapidly coming to believe they have repeated history and staged a modern siege of Troy. They have taken the wooden horse within the walls of the city and now they can't get it out. What is more, the wooden horse shows signs of life and has started to kick, all the little soldiers are coming out and all kinds of ructions are expected. From every state comes word of the growing political independence of the women folk. They are all "staunchly attached" to their respective parties, of course, but they insist on voting for "the best man," even if he does belong to the other side, and no argument has yet been advanced to alter this rather general view of civil and political duty. It is up to the party leaders to obtain the best man, and there you are. What could be simpler, what more logical? Certainly the intuitive vote seems likely to cause surprises at the fall elections.

It will be many years before a lady can be brought to vote at the crack of the whip or see the supposed wisdom of electing the poorer candidate on the better platform rather than the better man on the poorer platform, on the theory that principles rise above individuals. If the politicians are to get anything like a grip on the women folk they will have to sell them, very thoroughly on platforms as against personalities, and this is quite an undertaking. It is difficult to submit the goods for examination. Platforms seem to vanish into thin air soon after the count, so what can the poor leaders do?

Another Jolt For Union Coal Case

The blow dealt union labor by the supreme court in the Coronado coal case was made even more apparent yesterday when it was disclosed that the United Mine Workers will be unable to obtain immediate control of the nearly $700,000 held in escrow since 1917 to satisfy the damages levied against the union in the Arkansas federal courts.

The money, according to labor men, is sorely needed by the miners in the conduct of the present nationwide strike, and the only acceptable feature of the high court's decision to labor was that this money would be returned.

Sixty days' delay is assured, according to court officials yesterday, by legal technicalities involved and the passing of "mandates" down through the circuit court of appeals to the federal district court, where the money is enjoined.

Also there is a distinctive possibility that it will not be available for the unions until the end of the year.

Six Towns Seek

Normal School

Sixteen Eastern Kentucky cities offered claims for the proposed new state normal school to be erected in this end of the state to the commission authorized by the last general assembly at a meeting in session at the Phoenix hotel, Lexington, yesterday. No decision was announced by the body. About eighty representatives of the various cities were present.

Judge E. C. O'Rear, of Frankfort, presided as chairman, and other members present were: Senator T. A. Combs, Lexington; J. L. Harman, Bowling Green; Alex. G. Barrett, Louisville; Judge Arthur Peter, Louisville; Sherman Goodpaster, Frankfort; Judge Earl W. Senff, this city, and W. S. Wallen, Prestonsburg.

Each of the cities has raised $100,000 or the equivalent and offers the grounds, with and without buildings, accommodations for students in private homes, advantages in water, light, medical and hospital facilities and other inducements.

Ashland and Catlettsburg are co-operating in an attempt to have the new school located in Boyd county. Other towns are Louisa, West Liberty, Paintsville and Morehead.

See The Advocate for printing.

NEW SPORT FOR KENTUCKY

R. P. Scobee, of Winchester, has sold the Kentucky Greyhound Racing Association twenty acres of land in Rosedale Park, Latonia, Covington. This plot of ground is to be used as a race track for greyhound racing. Greyhound racing is a new sport in America. There are only three tracks now in the United States, Miami, Fla., St. Louis, Mo., and Oklahoma City, Okla. Bets are made on the result by mufuel machines just as on the regular tracks of the Kentucky Jockey Club. The track will be built and ready for use by August 1, and it is the present intention to race all during August.

CAPTAIN AMUNDSEN TO USE EXIDE BATTERIES

The wonders and enjoyment of "listening in" may be brought to the Esquimaux by Captain Amundsen discoverer of the South Pole, who has sailed from Seattle bound for the frozen north, where he will make an aerial survey of the North Pole.

For this purpose, an Exide battery of 56 cells has been included among his equipment, which was loaded a few days ago on Amundsen's good ship Maude. This battery, according to information leading Mr. Kimbrough, of the Ragan-Gay Motor Company, is to be used also for radio communication with Washington and is to furnish electric light during the three years he expects to sojourn in the polar regions.

While it will not be possible to get any of the regularly broadcasted concerts for the benefit of his Esquimaux neighbors, Captain Amundsen will, however, be able to put them in touch with the nearest point, which will probably be Nome, Alaska. It is also probable that he may broadcast specimens of Esquimaux music which may be picked up by those within 2,000 miles, the radius of his transmitting apparatus.

In addition, Captain Amundsen will keep in touch with Washington four times a day. His radio messages will be sent and received by relay from Nome to St. Paul station on the Behring Sea and thence to Washington.

The electric lights which Captain Amundsen will install upon his arrival at his destination will, however, no longer be a novelty, for the Esquimaux who already have been acquainted with this modern form of illumination. In 1914 the Crocker Land expedition, headed by Captain McMillan, took a number of Exide batteries with them, and, for the first time in the history of the world the Aurora Borealis had a rival in the form of electric illumination. A few months ago Captain McMillan returned to the north and again took an electric lighting system, including Exides with him.

Captain Amundsen will use airplanes upon arriving at the farthest point. From these airplanes will be flashed reports to the Maude where a powerful transmitting apparatus will relay them back to civilization.

Such service is necessarily hard on batteries, but Exides have already joined the ranks of Arctic veterans and nothing short of actual destruction is expected to put them out of commission. The Exides taken by the Crocker Land expedition went through 4,000 miles of storms and on one occasion were shipwrecked, but never went out of commission. Realizing the necessity of keeping in touch with the outside world, Captain Amundsen selected the Exides upon which will rest this responsibility.

FORD WILL RUN IF WANTED

Henry Ford has intimated privately that he would run for president "if the people of the country desire him to do so," but "he would refuse to spend any money to bring about his nomination or election," according to William T. Kronberg, editor of a Dearborn newspaper, and one of the leaders in the Dearborn "Henry Ford for President" Club.

Fugazzi School Free Employment Bureau

Is Receiving More Calls for Competent Office Help Trained the Fugazzi Way Than Possible to Supply

Graduates of Accredited Commercial School in Great Demand All Over the Country

Mr. Southern Visits Eastern Kentucky on Investigation Tour

The Fugazzi School, through its free employment department, is receiving more calls for competent stenographers and secretaries who have been educated in an accredited school than is possible for this institution to supply. We are also calling upon the National Association of Accredited Commercial Schools to furnish names of commercial teachers who have secured their education in accredited commercial schools as well as those who are willing to take up this work and become teachers due to the great number of calls upon this institution and not sufficient number to supply the demand. Any stenographers who are out of employment that have secured their training from an accredited school will please communicate with this institution and we will be glad to handle them free of charge.

Mr. Southern has just returned from Eastern Kentucky, where he met numbers of the business people and visited his former students who are now holding responsible positions for these firms.

Mr. Southern also visited Winchester and while there Mr. Hodgkin, of the Hodgkin Wholesale Grocery Company, stated to him that he had in his wholesale house in the person of Miss Mamie Perkins, one of the Fugazzi graduates, and on the strength of that he signed up one of his nephews to attend this school.

Miss Pearl Hawkins was placed with the Postal Telegraph Company the past week.

Miss Lucinda Patton was placed with Attorneys Park and Stewart the past week.

Miss Hazel Shelton was placed with the Baugh & Garner Furniture store as bookkeeper the past week.

Miss Elizabeth Bruen has been doing work for the Lexington Herald the past week.

Mr. Marvin Chamberlain was placed with E. L. Martin Wholesale Grocery Company the past week.

This institution has at the present time calls that it has not been able to fill and it advises that all prospects enroll in this institution as early as possible in order to prepare for these positions.

In addition to the above we desire to say that this school is so highly considered among business men that an increased demand is being made on this institution for trained young men and women to fill places that demand a good paying beginners' salary. Just now this school has 14 calls that cannot be filled for the reason they have not suitable material for the places.

We make this statement that young men and women from graduating classes may know of these opportunities and that they may enroll now and fit themselves for lucrative positions.

A letter to the Fugazzi School, Lexington, Ky., for additional information will be promptly answered. To enroll now and take a summer course will fit any young man or woman for a position among the many calls.

And don't be in a hurry to label your theory "truth." It may prove to be a lie—or something quite ridiculous.

THE PROFITEERS' TARIFF

Here are the latest utterances of leading Republican and Independent papers on the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill:

New York Herald, Republican—It is about a year since congress passed the emergency tariff act to protect the American farmer from being undersold in his own home market by a flood of agricultural products from across the northern border. The results are roughly covered in the trade between the Dominion and the United States for the twelve months to April 1 last. They show that while the emergency tariff has been in effect we have lost nearly $100,000,000 more in sales to Canada than Canada has lost in sales to us. And to that the existing emergency tariff is a gentle tap compared with the blow the Fordney and McCumber schedules could give to our whole foreign trade.

Indianapolis News, Independent—For the policy to which it is sought to commit the Republican party—the policy of price-raising—is very dangerous, and especially so in a year in which a congressional election is to be held. The question presented is difficult—whether to go through with a bad business, or to withdraw from it. The mistake was in turning the fortunes of the party over to Fordney, and men of his school. Probably not in the history of the country has there been a worse tariff bill than that reported to the senate by Senator McCumber and his committee, unless it be the one prepared by Mr. Fordney's committee, and passed by the house of representatives.

Brooklyn Eagle, Independent — If the Republican leaders of congress cannot see what is visible to Republican newspapers of distinction all over this country they are in a sorry plight. Those newspapers protest against the tariff bill not because they wish to make trouble for the Republican party, but because they know that persistence in folly by the party itself will inevitably lead to disaster at the polls.

Chicago Tribune, Republican—Absolutely no appreciation of a change in international trade relations brought on by the war was displayed. The tariff makers, led by Fordney and McCumber, had learned nothing and forgotten nothing. Special interests appeared before the committee as always, argued their points for protection of their own industries through a prohibitive tariff, and for the most part got what they wanted. Each interest saw only as far as its own nose and disregarded all those around it. The potash interest obtained a high tariff to keep out importations of this commodity, thus raising the farmer's cost and reducing any probable advantage to be obtained from a high agricultural tariff. And the consumer pays the cost, while trade is destroyed. The bill reeks with such errors and injustices. The public is disgusted. Only the many individual interests which have been taken care of are satisfied.

In practically all sections of the country where investigations have been made and grading demonstrations conducted it is planned to grade and market wool co-operatively this year.

The United States spent $600,000,000 for roads in 1921, according to estimates of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. The sum was derived from the following sources: Local road bonds, 33 per cent; county, township and district taxes, assessments and appropriations, 14 per cent; state taxes and appropriations, 12 per cent; state road bonds, 7 per cent; motor vehicle license revenues, 19 per cent; federal aid, 14 per cent, and miscellaneous sources, 1 per cent.

BLESSED ARE THE TACTFUL

Two boys went up to a house and sat down on the steps, shuffling their muddy feet and dragging a heavy cart back and forth on the path. It was not their house nor even their own neighborhood, yet they had taken possession. Presently a man opened the door, watched them quietly a moment and then said pleasantly, "How do you do? Won't you come in, boys?"

The boys looked up in abashed surprise, sheepishly got up and hurried away without a word. The man smiled and closed the door.

The man could have shouted, scolded, threatened or abused the trespassers with doubtless unpleasant results before the boys went away. Because he was pleasant and tactful the annoyance at once ceased and the incident was closed.

We admire diplomacy; we sigh when we meet untactful persons who rub us the wrong way. A person may be good and yet lack the soothing balm of tactfulness. We realize this between older people, but I wonder why we do not practice it more with children? Too often we are careless and blunt, hurting sensitive little feelings and often making it twice as hard for children to be good and kind because we are so untactful.

On a pretty suburban street there were ten boys who played together, and problems of property rights often came up. Every time a mother approached the boys in a friendly, reasonable spirit, the boys responded, and there was no trouble. One day a mother looked out of the window to see two boys fighting furiously over her smooth back lawn, while an admiring crowd of playmates gathered near. She thought a minute and then went out and stepped up to the antagonists, and said good naturedly, "I don't like to have my pretty lawn torn up, so would you boys please go over to the vacant lot across the street to finish your fight? You see, this is my land and I can't have you fighting on it, but there is plenty of room over there."

The boys stopped a minute, looked at each other, then each slowly grinned, gave her a cheery "Sure," and the whole crowd moved amiably up the street without finishing the fight.

Children do not like to be talked over as if they had no ears, and they are hurt and antagonized when their likes and dislikes are laughed at or their mistakes ridiculed.

A little girl, whose family had indulged in a hearty laugh because in dressing herself she had put her underwear on over her stockings instead of underneath, said reproachfully to her mother, "I don't like for you to laugh—it makes me feel so mean at myself!"

We would not dare treat our best friends in such a manner, for we would soon be friendless. Then why treat children that way when we need to be friends with them if we are going to teach or guide or help them? The friendship of little children is one of the sweetest, most precious gifts with which life can bless us, and unto the tactful shall it be given.—Mrs. Lydia Lion Roberts.

SEASONAL GARDEN TIPS

In Kentucky the second planting of lima beans, string beans, late carrots, sweet corn and tomatoes should be made by June 1.

Regardless of whether tomatoes are staked or unstaked, it is a good plan to go over them every ten days and remove suckers. This conserves the strength of the plant for fruit production. The suckers may be removed satisfactorily by using the thumb and forefinger or a sharp knife.

When tomatoes are sprayed for insects and diseases, care should be taken not to spray them while they are in bloom as this decreases the amount of fruit which the plants produce.

About June 1 is the time to make the second planting of watermelons in Kentucky. Tom Watson is an especially good variety for planting at this time.

Equal parts of air-slaked lime and tobacco dust mixed to gether and sprinkled around cucumber, melon and squash plants act as a repellent to the striped cucumber beetle which already is reported to be giving some trouble, gardeners at the College of Agriculture say. Tobacco dust may be obtained by grinding tobacco stems.

A GUN IN THE HOUSE

In a conference of New York City and Jersey City officials to consider measures to check the activity of criminals, Police Commissioner Enright, referring to the desire of citizens of the metropolis to arm themselves for their own protection, expressed himself as follows:

"Having a gun in the house is no protection. A man is awakened in the middle of the night, and even though he had a gun it is probably in a closet or in a drawer. Even if he had it by his side, the crook has got the drop on him and he has no chance to use it. If he could use it, he probably couldn't shoot straight enough to hit the side of a barn door."

There is a great deal of truth in this. Lack of expert marksmanship is very common in this far-from-the-pioneer period, particularly in the large centers of civilization. It is also true that the smart crook is likely to "get the drop on" the citizen whose house he invades. Although a gun in the house helps toward a feeling of security, the average citizen's dependence on the police for protection is almost pathetic in its completeness.

By his own argument Commissioner Enright proves the urgent need of efficiency in his police department, which, according to its critics, now leaves altogether too much to be desired.

FIRE BLIGHT ON APPLES ALARMING MANY GROWERS

Fire blight, a bacterial disease that is highly destructive to pear trees and one that sometimes becomes serious, on apple trees, is alarming apple growers in many sections of the state by infecting their trees, according to reports being received by W. D. Valleau, plant pathologist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Little can be done to control it at the present time and the chances are that it will do small damage, he said.

"On apples the disease is present as a blossom blight, although it also infects leafy twigs. A part of the blossom clusters thought to have been killed by the frost this spring probably have been destroyed by the blight bacteria.

"The blight that is most injurious lives over the winter in cankers found on large branches while that which usually is found on fruit spurs and small twigs dies out as soon as rapid growth stops and seldom lives over winter.

"If fruit spurs on large branches are infected with blight, the disease may spread farther back on the branch, girdle it and finally kill it. Consequently, it is a good idea to cut out such branches as far back as the disease has spread, taking care to see that knives and other tools used in the operation are sterilized with a one to one thousand solution of high-fidelity of mercury.

"If apple growing is an important feature of the farming operations, it may be wise in some cases to eliminate pears from the farm or at least to plant them as far as practicable from the apple orchard since the disease may spread from heavily infested pear trees to apple trees.

"The only complete control of the blight is obtained by community cooperation directed toward the task of eliminating it from the entire section."

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

Isn't it great that all the long faces of the ministers are being shortened, that they are starting to smile, and be human, and help us over the had spots with a little cheer instead of a few monms? Have you ever been able to figure why when the reaper comes around the ministers figure they should tell us "the moment we begin to live that moment we begin to die?" Maybe they think even if this sort of things does make everybody feel badly it'll steer 'em up to walk a little straighter. But why not switch the cards, and give us the facts, "the moment we begin to die that moment we begin to live?" With the glory of God and His great arms of charity and kindness awaiting us, what on earth have we got to feel bad about?

ARIZONA BOYS WIN PRIZES KILLING 36,000 GOPHERS

A contest in which 1,135 boys of Maricopa county, Arizona, participated recently resulted in the killing of more than 36,000 pocket gophers. The contest was conducted by the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, the University of Arizona co-operating. The interest and co-operation of the business men of the valley added greatly to the success of the campaign.

Each boy was given a trap and instructed as to the most effective way of catching the destructive pocket gopher. The total cost of this huge catch was $178, or about half a cent per gopher. Under the old county system these rodents would have cost the county $1,800 at 5 cents each. In addition it is estimated that the 36,000 pocket gophers would have damaged fruit trees, ditches and fields to the extent of at least $10,000 a year if they had not been killed.

ORGANIC MATTER AID

TO SOIL MOISTURE

In addition to adding plant food to the soil and improving its texture, organic matter, supplied by green manure crops, stable manure or in any other form, adds greatly to the moisture-holding capacity. It has been shown, says the United States Department of Agriculture, that while 100 pounds of sand can hold only 25 pounds of water and 100 pounds of clay, the same weight of humus or decaying organic matter will hold 190 pounds.

Clay soil containing organic matter is more friable than similar soil without organic matter. When the organic matter is entirely removed the clay remains compact during freezing and thawing. When the organic matter is returned the soil crumbles after freezing, just as the original soil.

HONEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

What do you care about the scandal monger! Nothin! Just smile at him. Ain't be puttin' you on the map? All you need worry about is that what he says isn't so. Everybody'll find that out by an' by an' then you'll be better off than ever— if you keep on smilin'. The man who knocks you'll help you more than the man who boosts you, because the booster's likely to paint things up just as much as the knocker and when the folks find out you're not a white winged angel, they may wonder if you're an angel at all. Opinions don't cut much figure anyhow, an' there's no use tryin' to stop folks from bavin' 'em because they're 'like measles, bound to be. We don't have to improve on what God made us. If we just be what He made us, we'll be about all right, an' he made us to smile, particularly on the poor fish of a silly corner gossip.

After King George and Queen Mary of England had left the grave of the murdered nurse, Edith Cavell in Brussels' last week, there remained at the foot of the memorial erected to the immortal memory of the great martyr, shot to death by the Germans, Mlle.
